Observe All Traffic Laws

"Eight highway deaths in the first eight days of August are a tragic reminder that summertime driving is extremely dangerous," our State Police warned.

They urge us to observe all traffic laws and to give strict obedience to the signs, signals, markings, and other devices which regulate, guide and protect all of us on fast highway and city streets alike.

"The five basic sign shapes make their messages easy to identify," they point out. "They state the law, help one prepare for potential danger ahead, and are priceless aids to the driver who makes caution and courtesy the keynotes of his traffic behavior."

They listed the five basic sign shapes which are used:

Octagonal (eight-sided) — the STOP sign.

Diamond — the warning signs that tell of curves, hills, unusual pavement or roadway conditions, etc.

Rectangular — the various sized signs that state the law, speed limits, no passing, parking limitations, exclusion of certain types of vehicles, etc.

Round — the sign with the X and RR indicating a highway-railroad crossing 300 to 500 feet ahead.

Crossbuck — the tall RAILROAD CROSSING sign.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF TOWN MANAGER

As you people all know, the Town has owned since 1946 a Chevrolet truck with front end drive attachment. The new cost of this type truck is about $3,000. During the years this has been used a lot, particularly during the winter months. Last Spring it was looked over with the thought of trading in on a new one. We were offered about $350 in trade.

We decided to rebuild it rather than trade it in. Since that time it has been completely rebuilt, new reinforced frame, new motor and every working part replaced that seemed to need it. Our cost for this including labor is $1,250. The boys at the garage are a bit proud of this job and will appreciate any interested people coming in to look the truck over.

We hope to get a lot of use from this unit.

O. T. Rozella.

Miss Ruth Hall returned home Sunday after spending two weeks visiting in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Wheeler and Miss Mary Wheeler of Phillips visited at Wesley Wheeler's a few days recently.

Miss Elizabeth Wight, Mrs. Doris Lord, Miss Janice Lord and Donald M. Christie have returned home attending summer courses at the University of Maine.

Pvt. Landon U. Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bartlett, is at Fort Dix, N. J., for eight weeks of basic training. He has been assigned to Co. O, 83rd Tank Bn., Superintendent Donald M. ### NO PROGRESS MADE IN NEW STREET LOCATION AT HEARING LAST THURSDAY

Apparently little progress was made at the hearing last Thursday afternoon on the location of a street leading from Mason Street toward lots owned by Stanley Davis and Avery Angevine southerly of the Crescent Park School tract and near Paradise Street. Objectors at this meeting were Simeon Keddy and Harold Hastings, who were interested in the lots of land nearest Mason Street. It is understood that the other owners of land to be crossed would give or sell the needed land for a nominal sum.

This is the third site to be presented for a hearing by the selectmen. The first, along the westerly side of the school land, was turned down in the annual town meeting. The second, between the homes of Robert Blake and Arthur Herriek on Paradise Street and on land of Harold Nutting, was discouraged by the owners of land to be crossed at a public hearing last spring.

they will play for a concert following. The parade will form at the fire station at 4:45 and will march down Main Street. The children will turn around at the monument and return to the fire station. The floats and decorated cars will go on down Main Street, up Railroad and Church Streets, and stop at the upper end of Church Street. Last year's parade was better than ever and it is hoped this year's will surpass last year's.

The parade will be led by Oakley Godwin, Beverly Palmer and Jane Smith on their horses.

Each costumed child that enters the parade will receive a small gift with four prizes $3.00, $2.00, $1.00, 50c, for the outstanding entries. The float and decorated car prizes will be $10.00, $7.00, $5.00, as in the past. Judges will be from out of town. While the judges are making their decision the band will play several selections.

The supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30. The main course is to be bean hole beans, prepared by Hugh Thurston. They will be supplemented by salads, pickles, bread and butter, desserts and plenty of good hot coffee.

The Boy Scouts are having a dance from 8:30 to 11:30. Tickets are now on sale. They have several fine prizes that will be drawn off so keep your ticket handy. You may be one of the lucky ones!

In the event the 21st is a rainy day the Bazaar will be held the following Saturday, the 28th.

Let's all attend and make the Bazaar a huge success, as well as have a fine time for ourselves.

EDITORIAL

Why Discourage Progress?

There seem to be few good reasons for the months of delay in the choice of a location for a street in Bethel village which has continued since last winter. Trying to be impartial in the matter, we would say that three good locations have been offered, only to be decisively defeated in the town meeting or effectively blocked at hearings held to ascertain the attitude of interested parties.

We do not believe that the first proposition, along the side of the school property, would have affected the safety of the pupils of that school in the least. There the street could have been built on land already owned by the town at comparatively low cost. A praiseworthy sense of duty to our children was carried to an extreme in the belief that space for a street could not be spared from the acres purchased for construction of a school building and future playground development.

The second choice we understand would take land from adjoining households on Paradise Street and lead to other lots suitable for building homes. A street here would have been considerably shorter than the first or last locations proposed and would involve little difficulty in construction.

The third, which was considered last Thursday, is the longest and most expensive stretch. However, here it would be possible to have several new homes in excellent locations and not far from the village center.

Bethel must grow, as so many other communities throughout the country are doing. We must admit that all changes are not improvements, and that owners of land should have and do have rights in the use and disposition of their property. Streets reaching this portion of the village area should have been built long ago, and in more suitable locations than are now available. So it would seem to be the part of public spirited unselfish citizens to cooperate a little, sacrifice a bit, try to make such changes today as may be needed, so that another generation cannot point to this period as the one that stifled Bethel's growth.

Let's Sell America!

In the face of a vast campaign by Communist and Communist propagandists to infect the thinking of our adult population and infiltrate the minds of our school pupils and college students, it is sometimes difficult for those actively engaged in combating this menace to put their major accent on the positive approach. Yet, in my opinion, the best way to assure the preservation of our American system is to place our major effort upon informing and reminding our people, young and old, that in the American way of life we have the best instrument for human progress, prosperity and happiness yet tried by man.

Someone long ago said that the best defense is a strong offense, and I think that's right. We need today a good offense. We need to do a real job selling an oncoming generation on the benefits inherent in our American system. It is our duty and our responsibility as American citizens to sell them on our American way of life. Then they will be immune to the left wing propaganda.

Negative action offensives create tremendous reaction. For instance, should you point out obviously slanted material in a textbook, material that will help the Communist and Communist propagandists, you would invariably find the writer or editor making every effort to justify what's there.

Then there are the teachers who have adopted these textbooks. They feel they are being criticized if the textbook is criticized. They adopted it, they have been using it, and they too will come to its defense. So we create great waves of opposition by any extensive study of textbooks in an effort to get the bad ones out of our schools—the subversive ones. I'm not advocating that they shouldn't be studied and the subversive ones thrown out. But we shouldn't make that our principal educational objective. Our major objective should be that of reaching all the people of America with the positive facts about our great country.

Americans are great salesmen. But we haven't been working at the job of selling our way of life. We have assumed that our children, far from home, would just catch Americanism like they catch the measles and the mumps. Very early in the history of our country that was perhaps safe to assume.

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

MRS. PAUL BARTLETT, 117-a Middleton Drive, Charlotte 7, North Carolina, practices a novel method of routing man's deadliest enemy, Worry, as the result of discovering that the 60 to 80 per cent of her time that was spent in worrying was absolutely wasted.

On a certain day, we will say June 8th, she turns her desk calendar to July 8th and writes down in that space the things that she is worrying about today.

Perhaps she is worrying that she will be caught in a thunderstorm on the way home; or she may have been in a drought when very hot and fears that she will develop a cold, so that she can't go swimming at the beach this weekend; or any number of other things, some more serious.

Day after day, she writes down her worries a month ahead.

At the end of a month she is amazed to discover that 60 to 80 per cent of the things she worried about never happened. Another 15 or 20 per cent resolved themselves with hardly any effort on her part. Only the remaining 10 or 15 per cent were real problems. And she might just as well have saved all her energy and concentrated on that 15 per cent.

She suggests that you try her method for she is convinced that you will decide that you have been wasting time and energy worrying. The point I want to make is: DON'T WORRY! Most of the things you worry about never happen.

Economic Highlights . . . . .

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare

"Our Miracle of Productivity" is the title of an information-bulletin issued by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Its purpose is to briefly describe what our achievements in this field have been in half a century or so, and why they were possible.

The bulletin begins with a statement of belief, in which it is said: "America's steady increase in productivity, constantly raising the standards of living is far more able to improve the well-being of the nation than any kind of redistribution of existing wealth or income. Our productivity has increased primarily because of incentives possible only in a free economy."

The bulletin defines productivity as "the rate at which we convert work and raw materials into useful goods and services" and emphasizes that it is not the same thing as production. If a man turns out more goods by working longer or he has increased his production, he has increased his productivity. The latter is increased only when a larger output results from the same or a lesser amount of effort.

Today a man can account for about three times as much output, with no more effort, than was possible in 1900. All manner of forces, the bulletin points out, enter into that gain—natural resources, science, invention, competition, managerial talent. So do better machines and tools and processes. So does the American genius for selling. Still another very potent force, it observes, "is the profit motive—a powerful incentive as well as stimulant. The profit motive gives everybody incentive to make resources go further. That is its great social significance." Then, a little later, it says: "Underlying all of these forces of productivity is human liberty. Liberty to invent, to compete, to profit and to grow. We say this combination of forces is unique in America because of this last factor—human liberty."

The concrete results of American productivity are found in shorter working weeks combined with higher living standards. Endless examples of progress could be cited. The bulletin uses as an example a commodity which almost every family uses—the automobile tire. In 1908 a tire worker earned 40 cents an hour and the cost of a tire which had a life of 2,000 miles was $35. So an hour's labor would only pay for 23 miles of use of one tire—a prohibitive figure. In 1952, the tire worker earned $2 an hour, the tire's cost had dropped to $29.35, and its life had increased to some 30,000 miles. This meant that an hour's work would pay for 2,900 miles of use of a tire—a 128-fold gain.

How can we continue to increase productivity? The bulletin answers that in this fashion: "By maintaining incentive—the hope of reward. The miracle of productivity in this country has sprung from certain basic institutions. These include private property which allows a man to keep, sell, or give away what he has produced, whatever it is; a bushel of apples or a new idea; freedom of markets from government control or from monopoly so that private initiative can determine how much of what is to be produced, where and when it shall be sold, and at what price; and finally, sanctity of contract."

Extension Service specialists in home economics with headquarters at the University of Maine are Kathryn E. Briwa, foods; Mrs. Charles C. Smith, clothing; and Mrs. Pauline E. Lush, home management.

SCANNING THE NEWS

SOME political observers say that Democratic leaders are no longer as confident about sweeping House and Senate contests in the general elections as they were a few months ago.

They say that the Democrats feel sure they will win the House but that the Senate is doubtful. The Republicans, whether overconfident or not, say the Democrats will not get the 50 additional seats they expect in the House.

Republican confidence is based upon the brighter economic picture, continued popularity of Eisenhower, the improved Indochina situation and the fact that farmers are not opposing the Benson flexible price support program as heavily as was expected.

The outcome of the T.V.A. issue is certain to be an important factor in Congressional elections. The events which led up to the Senate controversy on the matter offered the Democrats opportunity to hammer home their favorite theme: that this is a rich man's administration and that the President is concerned with the problems of the big corporate interests.

The issue arose as a result of the order by President Eisenhower on June 17, directing the Atomic Energy Commission to negotiate a contract with Middle South Utilities, Inc., and the Southern Company, to build a $107 million steam plant at West Memphis, Arkansas, which would feed 600,000 kilowatts of energy into the T.V.A. system, to replace T.V.A. power being provided for the atomic energy plant at Paducah, Kentucky. The Democrats pounced upon this order as the beginning of a Republican attack on public power. They cried that this was class legislation, and another in a series of measures like the offshore oil bill, the divided tax-exemption amendment, and others.

It was argued that the handful of companies which acquired atomic experience during wartime and defense contracts would obtain a stranglehold on atomic power development.

When the Republicans referred to the Democratic "filibuster" as "obstructionism," the Democrats responded with the retort that the Administration had "wasted" five weeks earlier in the session in fruitless debate on the Bricker amendment and should not expect passage of a measure so important as the atomic energy bill within a matter of hours.

The documents signed at Geneva recently changed the course of history. They annulled the lapse of the last colonial rule of a Western holding on the Asian continent, with the exception of Malaya. This critical turning point in the cold war brought much of Indochina under Communist rule and left the rest of it open to easy infiltration and domination.

The prestige of Communist China has been greatly increased and the free world now has to find ways to prevent Communist infiltration of Thailand and to associate India, Burma and Indochina with the defense pact.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know, wise as we should be after bargin' in on about 2 and a half wars in far away lands, we should have enough gumption to steer clear of the kind of government they have in those lands where war germinates. We are now—after all our experience—only a jump and a half or 2 jumps ahead of the same big type Socialism that has flattened western Europe.

In these foreign places the Govt. has allowed out from private management the railroads, telephones, kilowatts, steel, mining, Big Govt. in these places has kept the bones of their people to the grindstone. Opportunity in many lands does not beckon to the young feller with pep, vinegar and vim. These countries are not now equal to or able to even run their own wars—our own free enterprise U. S. A. must be called in to foot the bills. An oaty kettle of fish.

Now I say the voters of our own fair land have got to do more screening of candidates when they next amble down to the voting place. Look at this little group of left handed gentry that has been stalking the U. S. A. Senate—posing as patriots as they promote bigger and broader and more costly and expanding socialist "projects." One jump and a half—not 2—ahead of a flattened socialist Europe—that is us as we plot our calm way—and never chirp—but should.

Port Huron, Mich., Times Herald: "Nobody has a right to damage the confidence of the public in his employer—whether the employer is the public itself or a private firm or individual. And anybody who sidesteps—even legally—questions dealing with his loyalty to his Country invites discharge from his position, whatever it is."

Lafayette, La., Progress: "The most frequent violator of postal laws is the home mail box thief. Some 2,851 persons were caught in 1953 for stealing mail.... A woman mail box thief for five months averaged $100 daily stealing checks from apartment houses. A man stole electric light bills and confronted housewives saying the bills were overdue and current would have to be turned off immediately unless the bills were paid. Before he was caught he collected $1,600."

Pineville, W. Va., Independent Herald: "The average American loves freedom and all that it implies, with an almost holy zeal.... But no individual has a right to turn his car into a lethal weapon and menace the lives of others."

"There used to be many one-industry towns and cities in New England, whose wealth and prestige sprang from their being one-industry places, but those days have gone. Diversification is now the key to wealth and prestige, and great work is being done in many of our New England cities and towns."—Attleboro (Mass.) Sun.

"The United States Steel Corporation reports that half of its shareholders had less than $1000 income last year. That was their total taxable income from all sources. In fact, the pay of the average worker in U. S. Steel mills was higher than the income of 84% of the stockholders."—Boston (Mass.) Herald.

my PET PEEVE

by Mike Bennett

MY WIFE has a theory about giving gifts. She says you should always give something that you know the recipient would like to have, but would never own unless someone presented it to them as a gift.

I must say that I agree wholeheartedly with this idea. Yet I must raise a strong point of objection. Just how does one go about the matter of deciding what the object is? Is another person is anxious to have it, yet wouldn't spend money to get it?

Within the past few months, having observed Father's Day, a birthday and a wedding anniversary, I have been greatly enlightened to discover that I once had secret ambitions to own (1) a portable outdoor grill; (2) a set of lawn chairs; and (3) a pair of bright blue walking shorts.

Now I am confused. Would I have longed for a portable grill had I known that there would be a family rule that no one else in the family would cook on it?

Did I realize how much trouble lawn chairs really are? One must lug them in and out of the garage twice a day to protect them from the weather and as often as four times a day should it cloud up and look like rain.

And walking shorts? In Florida, California, New York City or Chicago, maybe, but not in the old home town. Take one step out of the backyard with those knees showing, mister, I just dare you. Taking everything into consideration, however, I guess the little woman is rather smart. Cooking outside the way I do three or four nights a week would get awful boring if I couldn't wear shorts to keep cool.

VISITORS WELCOME.

New in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near in the blood of Christ, (Ephesians 2:13, R. S. V.) Read Ephesians 2:13-22.

In creating men, God has made them different in many ways. Other differences are the result of environment. Still others, such as difference in race, are made to feel separation, are man-made. Men have made all these differences a source of pride, resentment, separation, hatred, and cruel struggle. Man-kind has thus become a broken and warring body.

God's eternal purpose is "to unite all things" in Christ. To Him all groups who by reason of color, race, class, nationality, or any other difference are made to feel separated, or feel themselves separated, can become united! By uniting men in Christ, God creates new men, a new humanity, a new single family of men. This family finds its body in His Church—the World Church, where all are "fellow-citizens...and of the household of God."

Pastor Martin Niemoller has told of the comfort that came to him in the concentration camp. His father told him that members of the Dutch Church in Sumatra were praying for him often. So it is in the family of Christ throughout the world.

Prayer
Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Christ, in His cross He makes men one in Him. We thank Thee also for the fellowship of Thy World Church. Help us to live every day through Thy Spirit in unity and love. In His name. Amen.

HOYT - FARNUM

The Bryant Pond Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday night, Aug. 14, at 7:30, when Miss Alice Emogene Farnum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Farnum, Bryant Pond, became the bride of Kenneth Anthony Hoyt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Hoyt, Rumford Corner. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Wilbur Bull, North Waterford, and Rev. Hilda Ives, Portland, at a candle light service. The church was decorated with baskets of Fall flowers. Mrs. Gloria Rogers was organist and James Whynnaught, soloist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina length gown of nylon net over tulle, and carried a white Bible, and bouquet of roses and gladiolus. Her finger tip veil hung from a pearl and rhinestone tiara.

Miss Shirley Hoyt, Rumford Corner, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Roland McMillan, Rumford, and Mrs. Reynolds Jordan, Locke Mills, cousins of the bride. They wore ballerina length gowns of green, yellow and blue and carried colonial bouquets. The bride's mother's gown was navy blue and white nylon, while the groom's mother wore green and white rayon and both had coronas of roses and gladiolus.

Arthur Ring, Bryant Pond, cousin of the bride, was best man, and Roland McMillan, Rumford, and Francis Hoyt, Rumford, were ushers.

Miss Alice Hoyt, sister of the groom, was flower girl, and wore a blue organza dress. The groom's brother, Donald Hoyt, was ring bearer.

A reception immediately following the ceremony, was held at the Bryant Pond Grange Hall. A short program was given as follows: Duet, "Alice Blue Gown," by Jane and Jean Wardwell; Reading, "Recipe for a Happy Married Life," by Mrs. Annie Bryant; Piano Solo by Peter Parsons; Song, by Roy Wardwell; Duet, by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whynnaught; A birthday cake was presented to the bride, with the singing of "Happy Birthday to You."

In the receiving line were the bride and groom, the bride's parents and the groom's parents, the best man and the maid of honor.

Those serving were Mrs. Frances Farnum, Mrs. Edith A. Hathaway, Miss Mary Farnum, and Miss Roberta Douglas. The wedding cake, made and presented by Mrs. Adeline Mann, was served by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Andrews. The gift tables were presided over by Mrs. Helen Ring, Mrs. Beale House, Miss Leatrice Farnum and Miss Kaye Ring. The guest book was in charge of Miss Jean Douglas, Bristol, Conn. Two hundred two people signed the guest book, and out-of-town guests were present from West Paris, South Paris, Norway, Albany, Waterford, Stoneham, Bethel, Newry, Rumford, Buckfield, Portland, Waterville, Berlin, N. H., Massachusetts, Connecticut and Falls Church, Va. Those present included 42 members of the Farnum family.

The couple left for a short wedding trip, the bride wearing a deep rose suit and hat, with white hose, gloves and shoes. After Aug. 22, they will be at home at Bryant Pond.

The bride was a graduate of Woodstock High School, class of 1951, and attended the St. Louis School of Nursing, Berlin, N. H. She is a member of the Baptist Church, D. of U. V., Jefferson Chapter, OES, and Franklin Grange.

The groom attended Stephens High School and served two years in the U. S. Army, which included fourteen months in France. He is employed by the Oxford Paper Co., Rumford.

MAINE POTATO CROP

ESTIMATED AT 56

MILLION BUSHELS

The August 1 estimate of the Maine potato crop is for 56 million bushels, only slightly less than the crop actually produced last year. The estimate didn't change from July 1 to August 1. Nationally, the August 1 figure is for 344 million bushels, which is 29 million bushels less than actually grown last year. This is a drop of one million bushels in the estimate since July 1.

"Our private enterprise economy, with its profit motive and competitive market, is the central factor in our prosperity. It operates on the fundamental idea of private ownership of the production and distribution facilities. The only other kind of economy provides for government ownership or rigid government control of these facilities." -Stoughton (Mass.) Chronicle.

REPORT SERVICE-CONNECTED

DISABILITIES OF

HALF OF VA PATIENTS

About five out of every ten patient being treated in Veterans Administration hospitals have service-connected disabilities, the latest statistics of the V.A. show.

At L. Stoddard, Manager, Veterans Administration Center, Togus, explained that half its patients presently are being treated for service-connected disabilities, or are veterans with service-connected conditions who are being treated for something else.

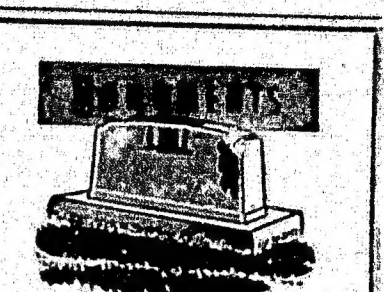

Four of the remaining five veterans either have long-term ailments or are pretty close to being destitute, it was revealed. This group including veterans with tuberculosis, mental illnesses, chronic disabilities of other types, and veterans who are on VA's pensions rolls, Stoddard said.

A veteran on V.A. pension rolls must have an annual income of less than $1400 if he has no dependents, or $2700 if he has dependents.

The remaining one out of ten veteran-patients has signed a statement that he could not afford hospitalization elsewhere, and the law entitled him to a VA hospital bed if there is one available.

Chairman of Maine's Farm Safety Week is Mardis R. Warner, Extension Service agriculture engineer of the University of Maine.

The cost-per driver-of erecting and maintaining traffic signs and signals on Maine highways is not very great. However, the cost of disregarding those signs and signals runs very high, our State Police tell us. So watch for traffic signs and signals when you drive....and obey them always. MEASURE OF POPULATION GAIN—The U. S. population is increasing at a phenomenal rate. By 1975 rising birth rates and declining death rates are expected to add 40 to 60 million people. This is roughly equivalent to the 32 million people living in the 22 states west of the Mississippi River. The National Association of Manufacturers says that to provide jobs for the estimated 22 million new people entering the work force will require an investment of at least $264 billion in plants and equipment. The estimate is based on studies which show that today's average investment per job is about $12,000.

1st BASE

By *George Sisler

From the book "How to Play"

published by The Sporting News

Chapter 17

THINK AHEAD

1. Pitching up. It has always been a theory that the more the first baseman can move around and back up, the more valuable he is to his team. After a runner has passed first, and is on his way to second, the first baseman usually is no longer needed at first base. He then can back up second on a possible wild throw. When I have backed up third base on a possible three base hit and thus prevented the batter from scoring on an overthrow to that base. Many believe this is a play for the pitcher to make, but where there is no need for the first baseman to be at his own bag, it certainly is a good idea for him to be in position to back up third, if necessary. This division can be concluded with the statement that the first baseman should back up any base at any time when he sees he can safely leave his position.

2. The intelligence of the thought put into playing first base will determine how expert a first baseman can be. Admitting that the first baseman can make all the mechanical plays around the bag, there are many occasions when the intelligence he displays in completing plays, or in seeing what the play will be, will determine his true worth. (1) He must determine when he should reach forward as far as possible to receive a thrown ball in order to make the catch as quickly as possible. (2) He must know when to leave his position to field a ball hit between first and second and when to allow the second baseman to field the ball. This is a play that can make a first baseman look very foolish if he fails to sense it correctly. (3) He must sense when the batter is going to hit or bunt. (4) He must watch each batter and cover the position where the ball is most likely to be hit. (5) He should know when the pitcher is delivering a slow ball, or change of pace, so he can cover his position correctly for each type of pitch. (6) He must call for a pitch-out at the proper time. (7) He must sense when a squeeze play is to be attempted and govern himself accordingly. (8) The first baseman must be, at all times, in the position where he can be of the most help. There are times when he can play a short or a fair distance off the bag, particularly when a pitcher or slow runner is on first. When a batter who often hits to right field comes to the plate, the first baseman must play his position differently than he would for a batter who seldom hits to that territory. (9) He must determine quickly whether, with a runner on third base, it is advisable for him to catch a foul fly hit a certain distance from his position, or let it go unfielded. On his play he must take into consideration the score, the inning, the number of outs and the speed of the runner on third. (10) There are times when it is better to allow a pop punt to hit the ground, and then make the throw to second base, especially if the runner on first base is fast and the batter is a slow runner. Instead of catching the punt and keeping the fast runner on first, there are many times, as these examples will show, when the first baseman's thinking determines his ability to cover the position properly. (11) When a base-runner on first is caught off the bag, the first baseman should not run him toward second base, but should allow the other infielders to run him back to first, so that if the play should go wrong, the runner will still be on first base.

*As related to Herold W. Langdon.

FOOD CAUTIONS FOR PICNICS
If you're planning a picnic, here are a couple of hints that might make it a happier time says Mrs. Ruth DeCoteau, Home Demonstration Agent, of Oxford County. First of all, be careful of the food you're taking. Things like potato salad and foods with cream fillings should be left at home, because they spoil rapidly and can cause food poisoning. Potato salad is often a picnic food, but another type of salad would be preferable because it does spoil so rapidly.

Then, have you ever arrived at the picnic grounds, unpacked and then discovered that you forgot something mighty important, like the salt, or a knife to cut the rolls, or the plates to eat from? This occurrence can be prevented by using a check-list. Make a list that includes the food and what you're bringing it in, the utensils you plan to use for cooking and eating, serving dishes and spoons, if necessary, and then the condiments, such as pepper and salt. If as many of these as possible can be discarded when the picnic is over, you'll find your load going home much more pleasant.

Another thing to do would be to bring some paper bags for trash, unless you'll be sitting close enough to a trash basket that you don't need them, but this seldom happens. It makes cleaning up after the eating is done much simpler.

So remember, eliminate creamed foods, cream-filled foods, and potato salad from the menu—use a check list as a memory aid—bring paper bags for trash—these will all bring a happier picnic.

WOODSTOCK
A beautifully illustrated trip from Florida to Malaga, way of Colorado was given by Missionary Volunteer Society the Seventh-day Adventist Church August 13 by Elmer Water.

Mr. Waterhouse showed pictures of Florida wild life, different parts of the states through which they passed, including the famous Gadsden, and Niagara Falls, Mr. Waterhouse and his family are now located in Orlando, where they are members of the Orlando Seventh-day Adventist church.

Basing his remarks on Jer. 23, 24, Elder David I. 5 addressed the Seventh-day Adventist congregation August 14. He said there are three things mankind is not to do, especially Christians. First, they are not to glory in wisdom. He spoke of knowledge which fills the mind as evidenced by machines, marvels of television, etc., are fulfillments of prophecy. He said the prophet said that in last days "many shall run to knowledge and knowledge shall be increased."

Second, they are not to glory in might. He cited Japan and the U. S. as examples of how the world has become strong. He described the great advancements in industry, the huge and complex machines which facilitate the work of man. He mentioned that power great corporations and nations have. "But," he remarked, "man is to have power in last days. He said, man is not to glory in riches. He quoted texts that riches are one of the signs of the last days. Elder Smith stated that man needs to know God. The things in which he should glory, he said, are attributes of God: lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness.

Dr. Marion D. Sweetman is head of the department of home economics at the University of Maine.

WOODSTOCK

A beautifully illustrated story of his trip from Florida to Maine by way of Colorado was given to the Missionary Volunteer Society of the Seventh-day Adventist Church August 13 by Elmer Waterhouse. Mr. Waterhouse showed colored pictures of Florida wild flowers, different parts of the various states through which they passed, including the famous Garden of the Gods near Pike's Peak, some famous graves in Battle Creek, Mich., and Niagara Falls. Mr. Waterhouse and his family are former residents of Woodstock. They are now located in Orlando, Fla., where they are members of the Orlando Seventh-day Adventist church.

Basing his remarks on Jeremiah 23, 24, Elder David I. Shaw addressed the Seventh-day Adventist congregation August 14. He said there are three things which mankind is not to do, especially Christians. First, they are not to glory in wisdom. He spoke of the knowledge which fills the world today as evidenced by machinery, marvels of television etc., which are fulfillments of prophecy. Daniel the prophet said that in the last days "many shall run to and fro and knowledge shall be increased."

Second, they are not to glory in might. He cited Japan and Russia as examples of how the weak have become strong. He described the great advancements in industry, the huge and complicated machines which facilitate the work of man. He mentioned that power of great corporations and syndicates. "But," he remarked, "God wants man to have power inside." Third, he said, man is not to glory in riches. He quoted texts to show that riches are one of the signs of the last days. Elder Shaw then stated that man needs to know God. The things in which he should glory, he said, are the attributes of God: lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness.

BETHEL DOWNS LOCKE MILLS 4-7 IN WILD 14TH INNING

The Bethel A. C. scored eight times in the last of the seventh inning last Thursday evening at Thurston Field to send out Locke Mills 4-7 in a Pine Tree League duel.

Herb Dunham started on the hill for Locke Mills and pitched six frames of shut-out ball but retired in the seventh after failing to retire a Bethel batter. Bill Seamus, in relief, erased Boyd on a force-out at the plate, and struck out Bennett. With two out and the winning run on second base, Howard Rolfe popped a fly back of second base that Martin dropped, permitting Andy Witter to tally the winning marker all the way from second base.

Bob Baker was the starting hurler for the winners, giving up nine hits during his tenure on the mound, and was responsible for all of Locke Mills' runs. He deserved a better fate but there were four errors committed behind him.

RUMFORD HOBBS EDGED BY BETHEL 4-3 IN SUNDAY CONTEST

The Rumford Hobbs met defeat at Thurston Field Sunday afternoon as the Bethel A. C. scored a 4-3 win. Merle White pitched well for the winners, striking out three, and failing to walk a man. White also connected for the circuit with two mates aboard in the second inning.

Bethel produced the winning marker in the last of the ninth on two singles sandwiched around a sacrifice. Marie Dick Shea of the Hobbs was relieved by Tom Fraser after the first single by Howard Rolfe. Carl Merrill greeted Fraser with a rest sacrifice bunt up the third base line, moving Rolfe up a notch to second base. John Brown then pitched on Fraser's first serving and drove a sharp single over the second baseman's head into right centerfield to drive in Rolfe from second with the winning run.
